BOULANGER DISAPPEARS

RETURN OF THE QUEEN

Paris, 3—There is no news of Boulanger. He cannot be found eitheir at his house or his club. They say he has left France.

Paris, 3, (evening)—Boulanger has issued a manifesto dated in Brussles. He says that he was bound in duty to abandon France for the moment to escape the action of special tribunals which had been organized to condemn him. He says he will remain in Belgium until the general elections which, he is sure, will favor him and shew the Government the futility of the present crusade against him.

London, 3rd—Queen Victoria returned this evening.

Paris, 2—Naquet, Laquerre, Laissant, Turquet and Deroulede appeared before the Tribunal to-day. The co[illegible] at boy[illegible] crowded.

Auckland, 2—Government has pleased the s.s. Himenoa at the disposal of admiral Kimberley on account of the recent disaster. H. M. S. Rapid has left for Samoa. One hundred and twenty shipwrecked German officers have arrived 'en route' for Germany.

Paris, 3rd—The Deputies by 306 against 236 threw out the Senate proposition for the prosecution of all papers convicted for libel.

The Cocard announces that General Boulanger having heard that the Government was preparing lviolent measures against him, has left Paris. The police are at their wits' ends. The same paper says that Boulanger, who is probably in Brussels, will return when his duty calls him.

Washington, 3rd—An extraordinary session is spoken of, with a view to review tariffs on basis proposed by Senate, and to strengthen the navy. The last disaster in Samoa has raised public opinion in favor of naval improvements.

CYCLONE IN THE HARBOR.

HOUSES BLOWN DOWN.

Montevideo, 3.

National Bank Shares very strong: 160½ for end of month. Obras 74½ for end of month.

Caymari and Victorica fought a duel this afternoon at the Tiro Suiso. Both are distinguished financiers. Caymari was touched in the wrist and Victorica received a heavy gash across the breast.

Col. Ramirez to-morrow will propose a guaranteed cedula scheme.

A heavy cyclone swept over the harbor this morning. No damage in the shipping. Houses were blown down.

THE POPE'S NEXT HOME.

Cannes, Feb. 10th.

The state of siege in Rome will probably compel Leo XIII to quit the Vatican before the week is out. It is an eviction of a thrilling character and pregnant with results. For more than a thousand years the successors of St. Peter have held their ground within sight of the ruined temples and palaces of the Cæsars. With the exception of the interval spent at Avignon and the banishment of Pius VI, Pius VII, and Pius IX, the Popes have been seated at the Vatican, while surrounding nations were torn with dissensions. Doubtless they will return there, perhaps in the 20th century, but the question now is, where will the Holy Father seek shelter and safety?

Malta has often been spoken of. Not that the British Government means to cede that island to the Holy See, but that England would gladly give the Pope a secure home, in the palace of the old Knights of St. John, for himself and his Court, free of rent and taxes. Vienna has also been proposed, and with better show of reason, the sovereign being a Catholic and the position more suitable than Malta. France is out of the question, owing to the insults offered to priests, and Spain is hardly proof against revolutions that might cause the Pope serious trouble. He cannot go to Russia, nor is he likely to choose Germany however friendly Bismarck and the Emperor may be. Bismarck has just been made a Doctor of Divinity, and might want to argue points of theology with his Holiness.

Switzerland would be central enough and quiet enough, but the Pope and the Council of Berne are not on as good terms as his predecessor and the Council of Trent. In fact the Swiss Government has caused the Vatican much pain. Belgium is suggested by many, but has its drawbacks, for, in case of a continental war it would be much exposed. Holland is too damp, Denmark or Sweden too cold, while Greece, Turkey and Roumania are out of the question.

There was some talk of Jerusalem, and if his wishes were to guide him Leo XIII would gladly fix his chair in the Holy City; the European Powers would readily secure for him the kingdom of Syria. But it would be too remote and difficult of access, since the Pope must be in ready contact with the 1263 bishops of his church in all countries. It was hoped in America that he might claim the hospitality of the Great Republic, but to this the same difficulty opposes as in the case of Syria. He cannot think of Australia for the same reason. What about Ireland? By no means, for he knows that it might excite a jealous feeling in England if he were to settle at Dublin. More probably he would choose England, not exactly the city of London, but some nobleman's seat, such as Arundel Castle or the Marquis of Ripon's castle in Yorkshire.

I think, looking at all the sides of the question, that His Holiness will leave Rome before long, and that his next home will be either in Austria or in England. He would be well received in England by all classes, for there has been no pontiff so well liked in Protestant nations since the Reformation. He is the only one that has sat in the chair of St. Peter who in earlier life dined with an English monarch, for he dined with the Queen when he was a secretary to the Nuncio. He is also the only one that visited Windsor Castle. He has the warmest sympathies for the English people, which is possiblyv one of the reasons that in Ireland he is hardly so popular as Pius IX, though still beloved as the Pontifex Maximus.

LORD MAYOR CRANWELL'S REPORT.

LIFE-STATISTICS FOR FEBRUARY.

With commendable punctuality the Municipal report for February was handed round yesterday. As usual, it is very neatly got-up, and its bright yellow cover, coupled with the interest of its contents, attracts immediate attention. The number of births during the month was 1,700; 889 males and 831 females. We cannot follow the Lord Mayor in the multifarious classifications of the total figure. Suffice it to say that births from Italian parents preponderate in a most accentuated manner. We are all rapidly becoming Italian in B. Ayres, and the city is beginning to assume a Genoese aspect; the air is impregnated with Ausonian ideas, and the tastes of the people remind one of sunny Italy. We may observe "en passant" that maccaroni and Italian wine are now being consumed on an unprecedented scale here. Turn we from maccaroni to marriages: The rate appears to improve. In February, 360 marriages were registered. According to the table before us, it would seem that widows are very loth to re-enter the matrimonial estate, although the prejudice does not appear to have taken such firm root amongst the highly respectable and numerous class of widowers. These little questions which statistical research brings monthly before the notice of the people must ever remain a mystery. In regard to the death-rate the report abounds with the most profuse details. The deaths are classified according to nationality, occupation, disease, and from a diversity of other stand-points. The total number of deaths was 1,158, which leaves a fair balance for the population. It is a curious and lamentable feature about our death-rate that infant mortality is extraordinarily high. A neatly drawn map shows the ravages of contagious diseases and the value of land in each district of the city, The map in question shows as follows:—

Whooping-cough	9
Measles	17
Typhoid Fever	41
Scarlatina	2
Diphtheria	91
Tuberculosis	10h
Small-pox	4
Total	267

The population of the city on the last day of February was 486,370, which is an increase of over 4000 since the last day of January.

The report concludes with an exhaustive statement of the amount of municipal energy and money expended during the month of February, the number of lawsuits begun, never to end probably, by the honorable city fathers, and a list of the houses visited by the municipal inspectors. All this information we deem of little interest to the general public. The life-statistics form the back-bone of the report.

MINISTER VARELA DEFENDS HIS DECREES

Minister Varela, in his exhaustive defence of his policy, has scored another victory. From the outset he had to face the opposition of a phalanx of luminaries of the law, whose adverse opinions he scatters to the wind in the admirable document before us. The legality of his measures he proves from every stand point. He begins by drawing a distinction between laws of "public order" and laws on individual rights. Without laws of the first-mentioned category, no nation could exist, for force and violence would triumph over right. The weak and poor would go to the wall. After proving the necessity of laws of public order, the minister opens the Civil code and puts his finger on article 5: "No person shall have rights irrevocably acquired against a law of public order". Now, the laws regulating our money, our legal tender, our forced currency, are all laws of public order. The attributes and functions of the national money are determined by Congress, and no arrangements or combinations, or plans of private parties can alter these attributes and functions. Turning to the Civil Code, Minister Varela then shews that money is intended to measure the price of things but is not purchaseable as a commodity itself. Any money that is not legal tender in the country is a purchasable commodity. There is more than one class of money legal in the Republic. Art. 619 says: "If the debtor has bound himself to deliver a sum in a determined class of national money, he discharges his engagement by paying in that class of money or any other class of legal tender at the rate of exchange on the date of maturity." The aim of the law cannot be mistaken. And in the presence of these laws, which have not been repealed, which have on the contrary been confirmed by the Forced Currency and Free-Banking Acts, what, asks the Minister, are we to think of the sales of Argentine money for Argentine money, as effected in the Bolsa? Those sales are null and illegal according to Argentine laws. Thus, let us say that 1000 dollars gold are sold in the Bolsa for end of month for 1500 paper. At the end of the month the exchange rate is 140 instead of 150 per cent. The seller, who in accordance with the Bolsa Rules, exacts 1500 dollars, attacks the rights of the whole community, he debases the value of the currency, since, we know that "at the rate of exchange on the date of maturity", 1400 dollars paper should be equivalent to 1000 gold. The operation is an illegal one.

Minister Varela then takes up law No. 2,399, which declares Bolsa transactions legal, and which his opponents have so often quoted to shew the illegality of his recent measures. This law declares legal Bolsa-transactions, but does not even mention a word about money or the purchase of money. The object of the law was to render legally responsible persons taking part in Bolsa transactions. These transactions are not specified. Whose duty is it to determine what is meant by "a Bolsa-transaction,"? Not a word is mentioned about money. In what code, or treatise, is the purchase of money of forced currency defined as a Bolsa-transaction?

Minister Varela, then, standing as the champion of the country's interests, condemns the terrible gambling in the "passes". It was his duty to cut short the abuse. They tell him that his policy will drive gold out of the country. Let it go, says the Minister. In Europe we can obtain millions at 4½ per cent, why should we pay 45 per cent. for gold? Finally Mr. Varela takes the press to task, the Argentine press, for, as he points out, the foreign press has unanimously applauded his policy. He upraids certain organs for recalling the tyranny of Rosas. Times have changed. He does not pursue gold. He wishes to stop gambling, and he is decided to hand the gamblers to the courts, not to the "mazhorca". It is absurd to say that gambling will be carried on more than ever in a clandestine manner. As well allow roulette-tables at every street-corner, instead of prohibiting the game. There is no logic in the arguments adduced against his decrees.

The Minister is victorious all along the line.

GENERAL NEWS.

March 4.

I say general news, because it is difficult to get Pigott out of one's head. I speak as a phrenologist, when I say we see his splendidly developed cranium—with eyeglasses complete—in every illustrated and partially illustrated newspaper, and in the shop windows. Pigott was a badly educated, middle-class Irishman, speaking only his own language, which he could not speak; but he had wit enough to write for the Fortnightly Review, edit his own papers, and gloriously to sell and fell the Times, the Smiths, and the whole company of middle-class English who pride themselves avant tout on their business capacities, shrewdness and common sense. For this he will be remembered almost as a hero in history, although his name has figured on the bills of the sandwich men in the Strand, who had it in this fashion:

HOW TO GET
PIGG OTT
WHY GO TO
ROBINSON'S RESTAURANT
166 STRAND

The death of Pigott by his own hand has stopped the sandwich men and the mouths of those who fondly hoped that his confession was only another lie. The Disunionists are counting now upon the evidence of Byrne before the Commission, but it is too late. If in the British House of Commons, the evil-doers, liars and slanderers cling together in a solid majority for the Government, the Tory paper, the Standard, has now joined the Daily Telegraph in the demand that the Parnell Commission should cease, as all further interest as to the alleged charges is lost. Meanwhile the Liberal leaders will cut Balfour's comb and bully book-stall Smith to death for the part these gentlemen have taken in the "foul conspiracy" as counsel for the Times. The Liberals will press for a dissolution, and will try to keep open the debate on the address till after the interim report of the judges of the Commission has been presented, so that they may be fortified—if they are not counting without their host—by the opinion of the judges, and the nation will be disposed to support a Liberal vote of censure or an attack on the coming Government National Defences Bill—a bill, by the way, that deserves a certain amount of interest from to-day's rumor of a naval action having taken place in Samoan waters between an American and a German ship of war. The American ship is said to have fired a blank shot, which the German corvette returned with ball. We know no more, and even that much is not believed, as it comes from Berlin, where for Samoan news they are indebted to London, and here nothing is known of it at the English Foreign Office or at the American Legation. Mr. White, the Acting American Chargé d'Affaires, is out of town. He and Mrs. W. are enjoying themselves in English country homes. He evidently expects no news of a fight at Apia, although he cannot be ignorant that the "Revolutionary" Government, as the Democrats call it, with Mr. Blaine at its head, is duly installed at Washington. The Americans in London are not altogether pleased with the new Cabinet. Many of the ministry are untried men, whose records are either obscure or unsavory. The most objectionable appointment seems to be that of the Postmaster General, Mr. Wanmaker, a merchant of Philadelphia, who is accused of practically purchasing his place in the Cabinet. He and his friends subscribed a quarter of a million dollars to the Harrison Election Fund. Mr. Windom, the Secretary of the Treasury, is pronounced to be a good man. He is a very rigid Protectionist, but not likely to lend himself to speculative manipulations of the Government surplus.

You must understand that a great deal of our learning on American affairs is taken from the New York Herald—London edition—and its information will not always be pleasing to Americans not in the Gordon Bennett clique. The paper, nevertheless, does a great deal of good in familiarising English people with the politics of the United States, likely in a near future to be more universally interesting than hitherto. The days are long since past when young Motley, finding himself a lion in England and very much at home, saw his native country from a distance as a huge cotton-growing plantation out of the pale of intellectual concern. The New York Herald in its English news adopts, I will say, a very happy tone of civil but independent criticism. At present it goes in for what might be called a third-rate daily Society journal. It gives prominence to theatrical and sporting gossip, and on Sundays it is particularly lively and an immense relief to that most ponderous and stupid of political papers, the "Observer." As for the rest of the seven Sunday papers, with the exception of the Dispatch they are unnoticeable out of the suburbs and side-streets in which they circulate. For the news of the week they are all equally good but unreadable by persons who have leisure to peruse the dailies. On Mondays the N.Y.Herald —Boston fashion I believe—gives us an epitome of the sermons of the previous day. I read to-day's summary of yesterday's pulpit teaching in London. I might read next Monday's, but from my experiences of to-day I will make no rash promises. The clergy will perhaps pardon the Herald's imaginary Sabbath-breaking for the pleasure of having a Monday paper all to themselves. The Herald has already lived down the senseless attack of Mr. Stead and his brothers in law. I see it is an ardent advocate for a commercial union between the United States and Canada, an event I think likely enough to happen, and one that will be a great relief to both countries. It will do England no harm, as a political union is certain to arrive sooner or later, and meanwhile a commercial union is all that the States want. Their interests and sympathies are with their kinsmen in the North. The malaria, snakes and swamps of Central and South America are not to their taste. Some day, but far off, a few of the Southern States and Central America may form a separate republic.

In the House of Commons to-night Sir James Fergusson gave satisfactory assurances in regard to the relations of this and other countries with Samoa. We understand that the Commander of the American Corvette "Adams" at Apia has been recalled.

The Pigott business has roused the Irish bishops to petition the Roman Pontiff to reconsider his views. Dr. Walsh is taking the lead in the agitation.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

March 2.

The nation continues to be wiser than its "House of Phrase"—that is, the Chamber of Deputies. The former demands, aye, next to implores, that its representatives will not disturb the peace till the boom of the Exhibition be passed through. Let them do nothing; not even knock over a cabinet like an Aunt Sally; let them take the longest of long vacations, draw their monthly stipend of 750 francs with the regularity of the rising sun, but to cease the pot and kettle speechifiying in the legislature, and the dabbling with questions that only provoke party recriminations, and rescall sectarian intolerance.

The Republican deputies seem to be losing their wits. The name of Boulanger is for them a nightmare. There was a Roman emperor who offered a bonne recompense to whoever could discover a new pleasure. The republicans are in a mood to award the fattest of Monthyon prizes to whoever can prepare the astutest of laws ostensibly to banish Boulanger and compel universal suffrage to vote as they like. The idea of republicans fighting against that suffrage suggests the monstrous, and approaches the unnatural. So long as the nation hosannaed their symbols, the manhood vote was verity itself; but when the electors shake off the dust of their feet against the present men who represent and administer the existing form of the republic, that vote is heresy and flat blasphemy. There can be no right divine republic; and in political programmes there can be no Syllabus. When republican doctors differ, the only arbiter is their common martyr—the vote of the maximum, and to whose verdict every knee must bow.

It is useless to examine the multitude of propositions submitted to straight-jacket the manhood vote; they are puerile, absurd and maladroit; if a section of the republicans have lost faith in the suffrage, that is due, not to faultiness in the electoral machine, but to the electors having withdrawn confidence in their elected. The latter have fear, and dread having to render an account of their statesmanship. It is a singular spectacle to witness the monarchists, that is, the reactionists, defending the liberty of universal suffrage against deputy republicans, who want to muzzle it in order to insure their re-election. Vain hope! It is Love's Labor Lost. Mrs. Partington mopping the invasion of the Atlantic out of her hall was practicability in comparison with dictating and forcing the current of a nation's will.

In thus trying to fetter electors, and adding penal clauses to the Code to ostracise Boulanger, the discredited Chamber only enhances the prestige of the "Man of the Time"; it is an immense tribute paid to his popularity and influence, that the legislature feels itself called upon to muzzle universal suffrage—the serviteurs dictating to the market—and to amend the Code, because his ideal of republicanism differs from that of the powers that be—till October. Naturally public opinion shrugs its shoulders at all this pettiness, while laughing in its sleeve at the minnows combating the Triton, well-knowing that at the general elections in October the minnows will be swept away and will no more be seen.

But the folly of the elected trying a fall with their electors! Only Jacob was excused for wrestling with the Angel. There is a sad precedent, and that the non-Boulangist republicans seem to close their eyes to, of the consequences of curtailing universal suffrage. The law of 31 May 1850 restricted the manhood rate; yet a subsequent legislature was so little republican; was elected by the restored and unmutilated universal suffrage, that it not only condemned the "Coup d'Etat crime", but re-established the Empire. The present constitution was only carried by a majority of one. Good laws, sound reforms, reduction of expenditure, all-round toleration as in England and America, that was the programme to keep public opinion with hooks of steel to the side of the republic. Instead, the contrary was followed; the nation has withdrawn its confidence from those who professed to merit it, and hence the chaos, the confusion, the gathering clouds, and the unknown future.

No one feels apparently any interest in the stability of the Tirard Ministry. It is a thing of shreds and patches; made up of rejected premiers and politically sucked oranges. As the Government of the country must be carried on, the existing Cabinet is as good as any other. It it would be content to do nothing, it would come up to the national wish. President Carnot burned his fingers by dictating what members should compose the Cabinet, so that he is now a combatant in the arena. It is Greyvism over again. M. Carnot had only to send for every possible public man—including even Messrs. Clemenceau and Jules Simon and give them full liberty to compose a Ministry. Should all fail, M. Carnot was then at liberty to name a Cabinet directly, to charge it to preside over the general elections, after decreeing the dissolucion of the Chamber.

No one regrets M. Floquet. He was weighed in the balance and found wanting. His courage was only vulgar violence, and his eloquence bombast. He profoundly irritated public opinion, and deepened the animosities between Republican cabals. He has not attached his name to any salutary or ameliorative legislation. From being an irreconcilable Radical, he became the most india-rubbing of Opportunists. He burned the gods he once adored. He has compromised the sympathy which was extending and deepening between the peoples of Russia and France, by ordering the French gunboat near Obock to cannonade the fillibusterer Cossack Atchinoff and his soldier props of fortune, who went to Panslaviso the Abyssinians in the happy valley of Rasselas. The fanatical Pan-Slavists of Moscow place the blood of their co-religonnaires on the head of the French nation. Bismarck may be excused indulging in a cynical smile. Wonder if another loan of half a milliard francs would win back Muscovite affection. Indeed if the truth be told, sober and reflecting Frenchmen never counted on a Russian alliance. It was a platonic and sentimental flirtation. France could give Russia nothing in exchange for her alliance, and no alliance can be worth much that is not based on the mutual "quid pro quo."

The floods in the Seine that sadly interrupted the march of the Exhibition works, have subsided. Spring commences to peep, and hope is springing immortal in many depressed bosoms. Indeed France is dying to work herself back to material prosperity and home tranquility.

PICTURES FROM HOME.

"Connoisseurship" in Europe is recognized as a fine art, and its votaries hold rank with the best artists, and this for the very good reason that they make it their principle to hang upon their walls such pictures only as reflect the sympathies, thoughts and sentiments of their own minds, carefully weeding out such as are discordant either in matter, color or style; hence results that unity and harmony which is the best evidence of the presence of the artist.

With this preface, we may remark that lovers of art have now an opportunity of viewing a collection of pictures selected by an artist and well-known painter. Mr. Dickes has, in fact, brought over with him his own household gods from his London studios—pictures which have been painted for him by the artists whose names they bear, as well as pictures which he has selected from public exhibitions. In the suite of four rooms, which scarcely suffice for the requirements of his exhibition, we notice first, the largest picture which has ever reached these shores, viz: "The Siege and Destruction of Jerusalem," by David Roberts, R. A., and his friend, H. C. Selous. Each of these painters brought to the work years of study in the Holy Land, and particularly in Jerusalem. This particular painting is well known by the large engraving made from it by Louis Haghe.

It represents the time when the Romans, having got into the lower city and set it on fire, are beginning their attack upon the Temple itself by raising their wooden towers and engines against its fortified walls.

Appropriately placed near to this fine work is "Ecce Homo;" attributed to Correggio, and a "Christ in the Garden," by Cigoli. Also an unmistakable "Perino del Vaga," the pupil of Rafaelle. There are also two works by Tempeste (1637); better known as Peter Molyn, which are absolutely pure.

Turning to the modern pictures, we note as excellent No. 7, by Steffon, Nos. 13 and 14 by G. de Brianski, No. 16 by the late E. W. Wynfield, R. A., ("The First Lesson with the Cross-bow,") Nos. 19 and 28, sea pieces, by James Webb and David James; a charming ice scene in Holland, by Schelfont, and a magnificent snow scene in Haarlem, by Koekook. By the celebrated moon-light painter, Abraham Pether, we have a fine river scene at midnight. By James Cole, M. B. A., a delicious "Little Mother." T. K. Pelham is represented by two very fine Moorish or Spanish fruit girls; J. T. Herring by "The Homestead" and "Horses in a Stable." No. 73, by E. W. Leader, R. A. is a charming lane in Surrey; 70 by A. de Lleneo; "Carting Timber;" "Cattle,', by Davis, No. 81, A Lifeboat, taking the crew from the rigging of a water logged ship, is very powerful. Of Mr. Dickes' own works, seven appear here. Perhaps his "Work and Mischief,"—a lady painting while some kittens are upsetting her oil and varnish bottles, a study of a girl's head in Normandy, and his little piece representing the quarter deck of the steamer Elbe, on which ship he reached these shores last month, are the most generally interesting, though his two water colors also deserve attention. We understand that these pictures are for sale, and think that his attempt to introduce really good works deserves encouragement.

TRAFFIC RETURNS OF THE PACIFIC RAILWAY —REPORTS TO DR. ARAOZ—CUTTINGS FROM HOME-EXCHANGES—A NEW TRAMWAY COMPANY.

The Pacific Railway, with its usual punctuality, has forwarded to the National Railway Board, a statement of the returns for January last. The employees have had lots of time to prepare this statement. We note that the gross receipts were $100,979, and the working-expenses $83,595. The next earnings were therefore a little over 17,000. The line has 685 kilometres open and the net return per kilometre may be set down at $25. The proportion of working expenses in January was almost 83 per cent.

A long letter was received yesterday by Dr. Araoz from the Manager of the Central Entre-Riano Railway. Mr. Figena states that he has made up his mind to use vegetable instead of mineral oil for lighting purposes and is moreover making arrangements to establish electric-bell communication between the carriages and the engine. Furthermore, arrangements have been made to carry bandages and everything necessary in case of accident. This prudent conduct is to be applauded.

Inspector O'Connor, writing to Dr Araoz under date April 1, says that he observes greater regularity in the service of the La Plata trains. Mr. O'Connor gives an account of two sad accidents at Plaza Constitucion. A child's leg was broken by a tramway and a peon was crushed to death by a railway carriage. The unfortunate man was rolling a cigarrette and did not perceive the fatal carriage. Mr. O'Connor can find no fault with the Southern Railway.

Messrs. L. Morgan and Co. have written to the Home-Minister in regard to Dr. Araoz's application for the suspension of the guarantee on the Argentine Great Western. Messrs. Morgan enclose a list of the rolling-stock, protest against the application, and endeavour to prove the company are in no way to blame.

A decree will be issued to-day ordering a general railway-plan of the Republic to be drawn up.

Our railway-exchanges poured in fast yesterday by the mail. We note in one paper of 9th ult. that the subscription for the 6 per cent. Preferred shares of the Villa Maria and Rufino Railway Company proved to be a great success, the amount of capital—£350,000—having been applied for seven or eight times over and the subscriptions being of a very good class. Under these circumstances it follows that the allotments must be cut down very much. The Shares were last quoted 5½ to 6½ prem.

The B. Ayres Metropolitan Tramway company, Ld. was registered. The object of this Company is to take over an important Concession and construct and work a system of Tramways, about 26 miles in length, for the transport of both passengers and merchandise in the City of Buenos Ayres. The Concession has been granted by the Municipality, in consequence, of rapid increase of the population and extension of the City, which has more than doubled since the year 1872, when the last important Tramway—from Buenos Ayres to Belgrano—was constructed. The Tramways will commence at Boca Quays of the Harbour, and extend entirely across the City to the public Park at Palermo, and thus accommodate both bussiness and pleasure traffic of the metropolis. It will also communicate with the Buenos Ayres Great Southern, Buenos Ayres Western, Buenos Ayres and Rosario, Buenos Ayres and Pacific, and other Railways running out of the City, and which form the main arteries of traffic of the country.

LAWN TENNIS.

ROSARIO LAWN TENNIS CLUB v. B.A.C.C.

As expected, the above Lawn Tennis Match on Friday, the 9th, at Palermo was a very interesting one. Rosario won the Doubles, winning five events out of nine; and in the Singles, which were not all played out for want of time, they were also successful, Knox beating Boyd easily, and Daniel beating Forde after a good fight. Messrs. Daniel and Knox proved themselves invincible, and much credit is due to Messrs. Rattrey and Sheehan for the skilful way in which they won the final set for Rosario.

For Buenos Ayres, Messrs. Ker Seymer, Russell and Forde played well, especially the former, who at times was brilliant in his play.

Below will be found the accounts of games and sets played:

MYSTERIOUS DISAPEARANCE.

April 1, 1889.

To the Editor of the Standard:

Dear Sir:

I beg to remind you of your promise to aid me in endeavouring to remove the mystery that surrounds my poor daughter's fate. I am informed the English Consul will leave nothing undone to sift the matter to the bottom and find out who removed her from the guard-ship, dead or alive. I am satisfied that with your undoubted energy and the eminent position you occupy you would be successful, for as editor of the Standard you can command the attention of every man in Buenos Ayres, particularly when it is an innocent girl and a countrywoman of your own who has been foully murdered, and whose fate is still a mystery. By pressing this matter home and getting at the truth of this terrible crime, you will have the esteem and respect of every honest man and woman the world over, and the everlasting gratitude of her broken-hearted parents, and Heaven will reward you for your pains. I remain,

Your obedient servant,
John Murphy,
Carpenter, port works.

Professor Melani, who is such a favorite here in musical circles, is maturing a plan to open a private Conservatoire de Musique. Anything musical, with sufficient big drum in it, is sure to succeed in this music-mad country.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The rain yesterday morning was a snorter while it lasted, which, happily, was not long. As it was, however, all the excavations for cellars under new buildings were inundated, and many houses in low-lying streets also. Since the city was newly levelled, the rain never can manage to get away as fast as it falls. There was a scare about the London and River Plate Bank, owing to the waters in the adjoining excavations getting at the foundations of the side wall in Calle Piedad; but props were put up, and nothing occurred. The depth to which the celler mania is being carried will cause big trouble some day.

The edifying spectacle of a woman bull-fighter in the ring at Montevideo next Sunday is promised to the public! Surely the Montevidean Government will see fit to prohibit this. Perhaps it is only another April Fool's joke.

Our London correspondont's phrenological diagnosis of the late Mr. Pigott's mental capacity is curiously confirmed by the physician at Madrid who was entrusted with the post mortem examination of the remains of Richard Pigott. The physician made a careful study of the brain and skull of the deceased man. He declares that he never saw such a well formed skull and brain. The latter in particular gives evidence of the presence of great power of character and strong intellectual and imaginative qualities.

Mr. Parnell's reception at the dinner given by the Eighty Club in London, was magnificent. All the strength of the English Liberal party was present. In that brilliant assembly of ladies and gentlemen of social and intellectual rank, the lately despised Charles Stewart Parnell was the star and centre. As a curious contrast one of the London evening papers publishes a pictorial parody of Haydon's picture "The setting Sun". The old man gazing, is Walter of the Times. In the sinking Sun is the image of a peer's coronet. A lost dream.

Another North German Lloyd steamer arrived yesterday with 500 emigrants, many of them English and Irish. They are in the Hotel at the Retiro. In the last two days nearly 1800 souls from all parts of Europe have arrived. Half a dozen Immigrants' Hotels twice the size of the Retiro hole are wanted in the city for the decent reception of new comers.

Our mail advices announce the sudden death on 8th ult. at Nice of the Earl of Portarlington, who was much esteemed by all who knew him. He was cut off by heart-disease, at the age of 67. The late Countess of Portarlington was sister of the Duchess of Marlborough.

There will be Quarterly Communion in the Scotch Church on Sunday forenoon, and a Preparatory Service to-morrow (Friday) evening at 7.30. On Sunday the collection will be in aid of the poor. There will be no Sunday School.

Here's a rain of newspapers:—The Red Star News Agency begs us to announce that, from date it will receive over six hundred newspapers every week, (not including those engaged by subscribers all of which will be sold at the counter in single copies. Prices that some time ago were raised on account of the very high rates of gold, have been again reduced so as to meet all competition.

The new bank in Bahia Blanca was opened the other day in the gay and festive way in which all good banks begin life. It promises to do lots of business. Talking of banks in B.B. recalls to our mind the daring North American cowboy who made things so unpleasantly lively in the National Bank branch down there a couple of years ago. What has become of him since he was arrested? Escaped, or still waiting for trial?

We have to thank the Central News Agency for sending us yesterday the latest London papers. The Graphic is full of most interesting sketches of the Parnell-Times trial. The face of the Attorney General when reading the apology from Printing House Square is a study. "Piggy's" interview with "Labby" and G. A. S. is also striking.

A grocer's boy in Azul was locked up the other day for what deserves a gold medal. A noted bandit entered the shop with knife and revolver, threatening to kill all in it, when the boy pluckily seized his own revolver and shot him as dead as a door nail

Remate del centro agricola
General Paz
Autorizado por decreto del S. G. de la provincia de fecha 18 de Febrero 1888.

Los terrenos en que el centro General Paz esta autorizado se hallan situados en el deslinde del partido de Las Flores y Tapalque, entre las estaciones Pardo y Colorado del ferro-carril del Sud, distante 2 leguas de cada una de ellas.

Como se vé en el plano, esa distancia desaparecerá con la construccion de una via ferrea, que ligará el centro agricola con la estacion Pardo y que está autorizada por el excelentísimo gobierno.

En el campo existen trescientos y tantos mil ladrillos para las obras de edificacion que deben hacerse en el pueblo; escuela, casa de policia, iglesia y casa municipal.

Los tierros del centro agricola General Paz todas vejetales y altisimas, en las lluvias torrenciales que han pasado son los unicos campos que no han sido inundados.

Verlos para convencerse de ello.

Business on 'Change to-day was of the dull description, as is usual in all slack markets. It seems that money rules tight, and dealers think that this must exercise a depressing influence on stocks generally, though as most of the business is done for end of month, which is as yet a very respectable distance off, it is hard to see how the tightness of money now can make any appreciable difference. Perhaps a more genuine cause is the general distrust rampant in the market at present. Few are satisfied that the present state of the market can last, and the consequence is that many are holding back to see what course events will take. The gold quotation is quoted currently in the neighbourhood of 159, house upon house, and at the exchange shops even higher rates are spoken of; specie is leaking out of the country as fast as steamers clear, and it is no wonder, therefore, that however clearly foreseen this may have been, it causes a stand-off feeling in the stock market. Withal the bulls are confident that another spurt in quotations must soon take place, or otherwise matters will come to a standstill.

Operations in National Bank stock at the first hour embraced 3100 shares sold for end of month, opening at 263, rising to 263.50, and then declining to 262, closed at the opening rate, buyers and sellers. Some Pobladores Railway Scrip, sold at a discount yesterday, reached a premium to-day under fair demand. Bolsa Bank Shares were steady. Colonizadora Nacional shares underwent a heavy decline, falling from 105 to 90. Catalinas were firm at 154 for end of month, and General Pobladora at 132 for cash. Credito Real and Constructors both relaxed, the former to 136 and the latter to 131 for cash, but Obligaciones were buoyant at 15 for cash and half a point higher for end of month. In Cedulas nearly all the series were quoted, but N and J, Provincial series, claimed most attention; rates were firm all round.

The Beckert Brewery, the sale of which was reported the other day, has been sold to the River Plate Trust, Loan, and Agency Company for £800,000. We are informed that the purchasers will form a company in London with a capital of one million sterling to work this valuable business.

Sud America this evening published Judge Beracochea's decision in regard to the "personeria legal" of the Bolsa, a most important document. Mr. Legarreta has been completely defeated by the Judge.

Captain Manton's quinta at Colonia has been sold for 100,000 gold. Buyer, Mr. Antonio Rabazini.

Messrs. Nelson Brothers have purchased Messrs. Terrasona's frozen-meat business in San Nicolas and intend carrying on the business on a much larger scale.

The hall presented a curious aspect today, being decked all over with the plans of the New Bolsa Hospital. They were much studied and discussed by the members, but it would take an architect to dilate on their respective merits.

Our well-informed colleague La Capital, of Rosario, says that property in that city is worth to-day 100 million dollars, and this quite independent of speculative rise in values.

We also asked to draw the attention of investors to the sale of several lots of camp near Bahia Blanca, to be held to-day at 2 p.m. by Messrs. Collet and Llambi at their mart, San Martin 175.

We see by advices from the Mount the arrival there of $43,180 in specie from this market per s.s. Rivadavia, $25,107 per s.s. Apolo and $89,000 per s.s. Venus. The speculation On 'Change was very heavy, during the month as can be seen by the following movement of values over liquidator's counter at the settlement:—

E. Unificado.....	£137,000
D. Amortizable.....	$180,000
B. National acciones..	53,143
Comp. National idem.	27,500
Banco de España idem	3,000
Cedulas Hipotecarias..	353,800

The Executive of the Province has followed the timely example of the Santa Fe executive in providing the colonists with seed wheat, as it is well known that unless renewed from time to time the grain deteriorates very sensibly in quality. Governor Paz has authorized Mr. Bertram, the well known exporter, to procure a supply of the best description in Europe, and it will be distributed amongst the farmers at cost price.

Creation of Centros Agricolas goes briskly on; yesterday no fewer than six concessions were granted, as follows:—13,000 hectares in Lincoln, Luis Grandolfo; 12,000 hectares same partido, Antonio Villa, guaranteed by Mr. P. Falcon; 9138 hectares in same partido, Silvio Losa and 12,000 hectares same partido, Isaias Alsina; 8000 hectares in 3 Arroyos, Pedro Lopez; 10799 hectares in 9 de Julio, C. J, and P. A. Costa.

The following property sales are reported:—
Belgrano, Calle Tucuman 79181, 40x43 for 25000 m/n.
Brazil 149, 7x42 for 6000 m/n.
Corrientes 932, 7x58 for 30,000 m/n.

Laprida 349|53, 9x39 for 10,500 m/n.
Anchorena 342|54, 22x61 for 35,500 m/n.
Cuyo 1289, 9x51 for 21,500 m/n.
A. Montes de Oca, 21x83 for 41,150 m/n.

Medrano, 17x42 for 13,373 m/n.
Piedad 3614, 15x37 for 40,000 m/n.
88 B y Maza, 9359 for 3174 m/n.
Chacabuco, 774|133 m/cdos for 9,000 m/n.
Various lots of terrene sold for 34,300 dollars.

List of passengers per s.s. Cotopaxi arrived yesterday:—
Mme. Oisay and two children, J McNee, Mrs Millar and child, J J Smith, J T Deakin, N Davis, C Ruston, P R Webster, G C Porter, H Turner, Mr and Mrs F C Louis, Mr and Mrs C Louis, F H Louis, J N Dalton, J Akroyd, W Vestry, J Sagastume, E Van Heineburgh, N Boxa y Bague, Mrs Octolozoz and daughter, E H Alvarez, F Paulino, A Chomet, Mrs Cozenouve, Miss Tudenwick, Miss Rose Inness and nephew, Staff Surgeon Tyndall, A Guber, A Armit, D Pollock, B Burton, T Reeves, A Rogers, Col. Huila, Mrs Jackson and two daughters, Dr Macdonald, Miss Robillard, Mr and Mrs Lomax and two children, W Dickenson, J Boutboon, S W Williamson, Miss Walker and nephew, Miss Lomax, nephew and nurse, the Misses Lyon (2), C Milne, Dr and Mrs Middleton, Mr and Mrs Marguand, Mr. and Mrs. Petit, H Cant, C Martinez, and 308 third-class passengers.

There can be no longer any doubt that if the present state of affairs lasts much longer, dealers in stocks will suffer severe reverses. Money is very tight. The banks only discount in gold and although there is no appreciable squeeze at present we heard to-day of parties offering 1½ o/o with guarantees of National Bank Shares at 220 and unsuccessful. In spite of the tightness of paper, however, gold is as stiff as ever and was quoted at 159 and 160 for end of May, house upon house.

A morning colleague calculates the specie shipments last month at over 1½ million sterling, independant of amounts shipped to Montevideo and Brazil.

As so much interest is centered in the precious metal at present the following data of the stock of gold of the principal European banks will be found interesting:

	Million francs
Bank of France.....	1022
Do. Russia.....	964
Do. Germany	732
Do. England.....	514
Do. New York.....	462
Do. Italy	216

Do. Belgium	86

Business in stocks at the second hour was very dull. Only Constructors showed any signs of animation and rates all round showed accentuated signs of depression, though the decline was relatively small. National Bank Shares closed at 261 for April 15th, and 262½ for end month, Credito Real at 137, La Plata Moles 132 and Constructors 132 for same date. Obligations changed hands at 14½ for to-morrow and 15 end month. Cedulas were neglected, only the N Series being in demand and rates showed a slight falling off.

The news from the produce markets is the same. Arrivals small, but everything selling and moving off as fast as it is received. Prices firm.

The s.s. Pampa arrived in Montevideo to-day from Havre with 600 passengers and 2069 meters cargo.

A telegram was received to-day from the Bolsa London Correspondent announcing the subscription opened to convert 1881 bonds for Central Northern Railway £100 debentures.
